Sarawak Laksa 20

A dish that made it into the Top 10 wish list of the late world-renowned chef Anthony Bourdain. The Sarawak Laksa is essentially vermicelli rice noodles (bee hoon), cooked in a shrimp-based broth that is made to thicken with coconut milk. It consist of more than 20 different blended spices. This dish is served with crunchy bean sprouts, a few boiled prawns and garnished with shredded chicken and half boiled egg.

Penang Assam Laksa 17

The famous dish that launch Malaysia into stardom in the world of food. It's fish broth is made from poached, boned mackerels stewed together with lemongrass, chillies and assam (tamarind) and served with thick rice vermicelli (lai fun) and deliciously thick prawn paste.
